

3

NW artist's show opens

DIFFERENT AND DISTINCTIVE Mike MacDonald doesn't use a brush to create his works of art but a camera. The result is eye-catching photo collages such as the above. As his subject, MacDonald used Ken Mowat's totem pole 'Raven Steals the Night'. The pole is located in the K'san Village in the Hazeltons. Residents have an opportunity to view more of his work when his show 'Plants and Totems' opens at the Terrace Art Gallery this Saturday. It continues through to the end of the month.